

Domestic Violence vs Assaults and Rapes in India in 2013

Rapes and Assaults on women have always been treated as the most serious and most frequently committed crimes against women in India. But the data shows that Domestic Violence is another frequently committed crime that demands the same attention and seriousness by the Government as well as by the common people.

